

Vacancy Internship Economics

Are you interested in solving complex strategic and economic problems? Do you thrive in an ambitious setting? Then take this opportunity to do an internship at PwC's Economics team.

1. Who are you?

- You are planning to follow, are following or you have almost finished an economics-related master at a leading university.
- You have outstanding academic results and show excellent analytical thinking.
- You have a strong interest in economic problems and are motivated to apply economic theory to practical issues.
- You are a strong communicator and find it easy to work in teams.
- You are able to write and speak English fluently (Basic knowledge of Dutch is a must).
- You show flexibility in terms of the methods you apply and the industries you want to work in.
- You are available on a full-time basis, between 3 and 6 months.

2. What does your job look like?

During the internship (3-4 months) you will help and be part of PwC project teams who work on complex strategic and economic issues. While this can be very diverse, common examples of client issues relate to shaping a regulatory strategy, finding/analyzing or countering the rationale for government intervention in a specific market, and assessing the economic impact of major initiatives.

Together with the project team, your role will be to think about what the most effective and efficient way is to find a solution to a clients' issue, the executing part of the analysis and report your findings to the team lead. For the length of the internship, you will be appointed a supervisor to help you along.

3. What do we offer?

We offer:

- An inspiring professional environment.
- A coach/buddy who will help you with your personal development.
- Access to all relevant PwC facilities and databases.
- A company laptop.
- A good internship allowance.
